

Noel Mitchell is Managing Director of Keynote PCO, a full-service conference management company based in Dublin, specialising in management of large international association congresses.

Noel has over 30 years of industry experience and was one of the founders of the Association of Irish Professional Conference Organisers in 1999, serving as its Secretary and Chairperson, and has supported important local industry developments including the establishment of the Dublin Convention Bureau and many new convention facilities in Ireland.

He is a recognized leader in the international meetings industry and is the Past-President of the World PCO Alliance and a former Council Member of the International Association of Professional Congress Organisers (IAPCO).