

I am a senior management and business professional with more than 15 years experience in the tourism industry in Spain and Greece. A tourism and meetings industry expert promoting and developing destinations for leisure travel and international association meetings, incentives and corporate events. Expert on restructuring, creating and running non-for profit organisations. I have been responsible for setting up and managing the official convention bureau of Thessaloniki. I am passionate about creating value, building vision for my team and inspiring people within the industry to make a better world. I enjoy lecturing to hospitality students across Greece and sharing knowledge. I am a creative, human-centric, solutions-oriented individual, passionate about creating connections and building networks. Passionate for floral design, plants and flowers. When we meet, we change the world
